SHADOWS OF FEAR

The balance between protecting civil liberties and protecting the country from terrorism

In September 2001 and January 2002, 55% majorities said that, in order to curb terrorism in the U.S., it was necessary for the average citizen to give up some civil liberties

In 1997, just 29% said this would be necessary while 62% said it would not

iSee

2,400 Cameras In 2001

A mapping utility to guide New Yorkers through Manhattan along routes with the fewest surveillance cameras iSee, was created by the Institute for Applied Autonomy, a group of technologists, and the New York Surveillance Camera Project, an offshoot of the New York Civil Liberties Union.

The interactive, Web-based map catalogs most of the 2,400 cameras filming public space in the city, including cameras on buildings, ATMs and traffic lights.
